

Trebuchet Legal Services

Cost Savings with No Downside

How much is your firm paying its associates? And what percentage of their time is spent on non-client-facing work, like research, drafting documents and document review?

What if you could reduce the cost of those hours by 50% or more - without sacrificing quality, timeliness or anything else?

That's the premise behind Trebuchet's legal services offerings.

How We Do It

We employ a staff of experienced US-trained attorneys from top-notch law schools who've immigrated to Israel for ideological reasons. Salaries in Israeli are generally lower than in the US and this is especially true for disciplines, like law, that aren't easily transportable from country to country. Our candidate pool is vast and encompasses almost every legal speciality and jurisdiction.

Many of our attorneys have advanced degrees. Some have taught law. Almost all have a minimum of five years experience - in large US law firms, solo practices or in the corporate environment. Most are specialists in one or more areas of law.

We also employ a staff of attorneys in India who, working under the supervision of our Israel-based US attorneys, do lower-level work that you might be outsourcing already, such as discovery or document review work. Often the India-based attorneys can assist with higher end work as well - performing preliminary research, for example, to lay the groundwork for more sophisticated work that will be performed by a US attorney. When this team can be employed without sacrificing quality, further costs savings can be enjoyed.

How You Work with Us

We're flexible, and we make the process simple and painless. Whether you need a standing team of one or more, or want the ability to handle overflow requirements on an occasional basis, we'll work with you to devise a successful solution. And you can test our services with no cost or obligation - we'll "pilot" with you for free, to let you experience without risk the quality of the product and of the experience for yourself.
